

AT THE WHITE HOUSE

New Collector of Customs at Newport News.

ARCHIBALD C. PEACHEY

UNLESS REPRESENTATIVE SLEMP
OBJECTS TO HIM.Not Much of Importance at Today's Cabinet Meeting—Gossip as to Possible Cabinet Changes.

Archibald C. Peachey will probably be named in a few days as collector of customs at Newport News to fill the vacancy caused by the recent death of Col. El. H. Hott. The President has concluded to name Peachey, who has the backing of John S. Wise and George E. Bowdoin, national committeeman, if it is agreeable to Representative Slemph of Virginia. Mr. Slemph is in Washington today ready to make a recommendation, but he will not do anything before tomorrow, when he will have a conference with Seth V. Peck, another candidate for the position. Mr. Peachey is a practicing lawyer at Newport News, while Mr. Peck is in the custom house at Norfolk and is also a lawyer. Mr. Peck has been a staunch republican and if Mr. Slemph were to present his name to the President there might be a change. It is practically settled, though, that Mr. Peachey will be named.

Out for Recorder of Deeds.

Representative Campbell and David Mulvane, national committeeman of Kansas, saw the President today to press a prominent colored man for recorder of deeds of the District. Their candidate is Dr. W. T. Vernon, president of the Industrial Institute at Quindaro, Kan. Dr. Vernon is one of the leading colored educators of the country, and stands so well that he has the backing of Booker Washington for the office. There are a number of other candidates among leading colored republicans, but Vernon is said to have exceedingly strong backing, that of Booker Washington being especially warm. The President did not commit himself in any way.

Today's Cabinet Meeting.

Few matters of considerable importance were considered today at the meeting of the cabinet. It was said authoritatively that there was no discussion of either the Loomis-Bowen case or matters pertaining to the Panama canal. After the meeting Secretary Taft said he had not yet received Secretary Loomis' statement in reply to that of Minister Bowen. Some of the oral testimony which he is to take in the case already is in hand. He has received a statement of some phases of the case from Henry Willard Bean, formerly manager of the asphalt company at Caracas, but the nature of it he could not disclose. Secretary Taft said the President was anxious to reach a conclusion of the case as soon as possible, but that the Secretary could not indicate how soon he might be able to submit his report on it. Brief consideration was given to the approaching army and navy maneuvers, but no announcement concerning them was made. Postmaster General Cortelyou remained with the President some time after the cabinet had taken up with him some post office appointments.

Possible Cabinet Change.

The intention of Secretary Morton to retire from the cabinet this fall has led to discussion and speculation as to who will be his successor. Secretary Metcalf of the Department of Commerce and Labor is picked as the successor of Mr. Morton. This is because Mr. Metcalf is understood to like the work of that department. He was for a long time connected with the naval affairs and in the case of the case took an active interest in the navy when he was on that committee. The President had him in mind for the navy portfolio at the time Mr. Morton was offered the position, but concluded that he would name Mr. Morton. Mr. Metcalf is said to be tired of his department and to have in mind a somewhat early retirement from there. In case gossip should be right and he should go to the head of the Navy Department, it is believed that the President would make James R. Garfield Secretary of Commerce and Labor. Mr. Garfield was one of the President's visitors today.

Despite the gossip as to Mr. Metcalf, however, it is at the present time improbable that he will become Secretary of the Navy. The President knows that Mr. Morton will retire early in the fall, and he has some others under consideration for the prospective vacancy.

It is contemplated that there will be a number of cabinet changes in the next year. Secretary Shaw is definitely scheduled to leave the treasury next February or March, while Attorney General Moody has for a long time desired to resume the practice of law in Massachusetts. It is expected that as soon as he gets through handling some of the important anti-trust cases that are pending in the courts, and being prepared to leave, he will accept him decidedly busy for a year or more, but it is generally felt that he will not stay in the cabinet much longer than a year. Postmaster General Cortelyou may leave the cabinet at an early date should a formal offer be made him to become president of the Equitable Insurance Company. There is little doubt that he would accept the position if offered to him under circumstances that would insure harmony in the organization and confidence in his management. In this event it is almost certain that the President would offer that place to Robert J. Wynne, Postmaster General for a short time, and now counsel general for London.

FORFEITS COLLATERAL.

Edward Cochran Accused of Making
Book on Race.

Edward Cochran was arrested yesterday by Officer Smith of the fifth precinct station to answer to a charge of betting on a horse race in the city of Washington, contrary to the statute. When he was taken to the station house he put up $75 collateral for his appearance in the Police Court this morning. When the case was called, however, it was found the collateral had been forfeited.

According to the police, the defendant was a bookmaker on a small scale and was making a book on his fair daughters in the city of Washington. When he was taken to the station house he put up $75 collateral for his appearance in the Police Court this morning. When the case was called, however, it was found the collateral had been forfeited.

Aid in Celebrating Anniversary.

There is an organization among the plate printers of the bureau styled the Plate Printers' Pleasure Club, of which Thomas F. Roche is president and James J. McNally secretary. The organization last night aided in celebrating the twenty-third anniversary of the marriage of Mr. E. L. Jordan, editor of the Plate Printer, his fellow-craftsmen of the bureau giving him a rousing surprise party at his "old Virginia home" in Ballston. A special train provided by the committee early in the evening carried about 150 jolly plate printers and their wives, sweethearts and invited guests from the Aqueduct bridge to Ballston, where the flying feet of the younger troops of invaders, as they whirled in the mazy dance. On the lawn throughout the evening the band discoursed music long ago. Refreshments, speeches of congratulation, presentation of a magnificent chair and the reading of an original poem were some of the features of the occasion before the merry makers at midnight marched away to the air of "Good Night, Ladies."
